

LOVE LETTER

Dear _____, (proper noun)

I love _____ so much! I can't imagine my _____ (noun) (noun)

without you. I _____ about your _____ (verb) (adjective)

_____, and I _____ about you all the (noun) (verb)
time.

In fact, you're the _____, _____
(superlative adj.) (superlative adj.)
person I've ever known. Let's always be _____.
(plural noun)

Love,

Your _____ admirer
(adjective)

CANDY HEARTS

These candy hearts have lots of _____ Valentine's (adjective)

messages. This one says, "Ur so _____." Here's (adjective)

a _____ one that says, "I luv _____."
(adjective) (plural noun)

The _____ ones taste like _____, so (adjective) (noun)

I eat them last. I _____ every time I (verb)

_____ them, because they're so _____.
(verb) (adjective)

Here, _____ one.
(verb)

V-DAY GIFTS

February 14th is coming! I'm so _____, but I don't know what to buy for my Valentine. Maybe I'll send a box of _____ dozen _____. Each one (number) (plural noun)
(adjective)

would be a different flavor, like _____, (noun)

_____, and _____.
(noun) (noun)

Or, maybe I'll buy _____ dozen _____ (number) (color)

_____ to put in this _____ vase.
(plural noun) (adjective)

On second thought, maybe I'll just _____ and (verb)

say, "I love _____."
(noun)

CUPID'S CONFESSION

Every year, Cupid spreads _____ to people all (noun)

around the world. He uses a bow and _____ to (noun)

make two _____ _____ in love. He likes (noun) (verb)

his job, but sometimes, he secretly wishes he could be a(n) _____.
(occupation)

At his new job, he'd _____ everyday. Going to (verb)

work would be so _____ that he'd never want to (adjective)

leave. Instead, he'd sleep in his _____ in the (noun)

parking lot and _____ at his desk. It would be (noun)

so amazing!

